

Division of Supportive Care Research, Exploratory Oncology Research & Clinical Trial Center

Continuous development of novel drugs for supportive care

Development of novel drugs through preclinical, Phase I, II, III studies

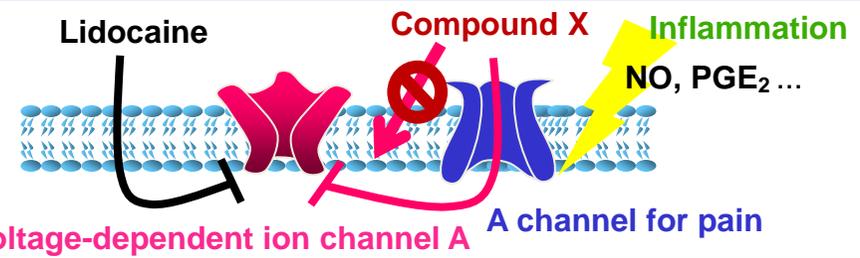

Res. Inst.
Div. Cancer
Pathophysiol

EPOC Div. Supportive Care Research

Hospital
Center for Supportive
Care

Compound X – an analgesic for stomatitis without losing taste and texture

Seeds
↓
Non-clinical study supported by AMED

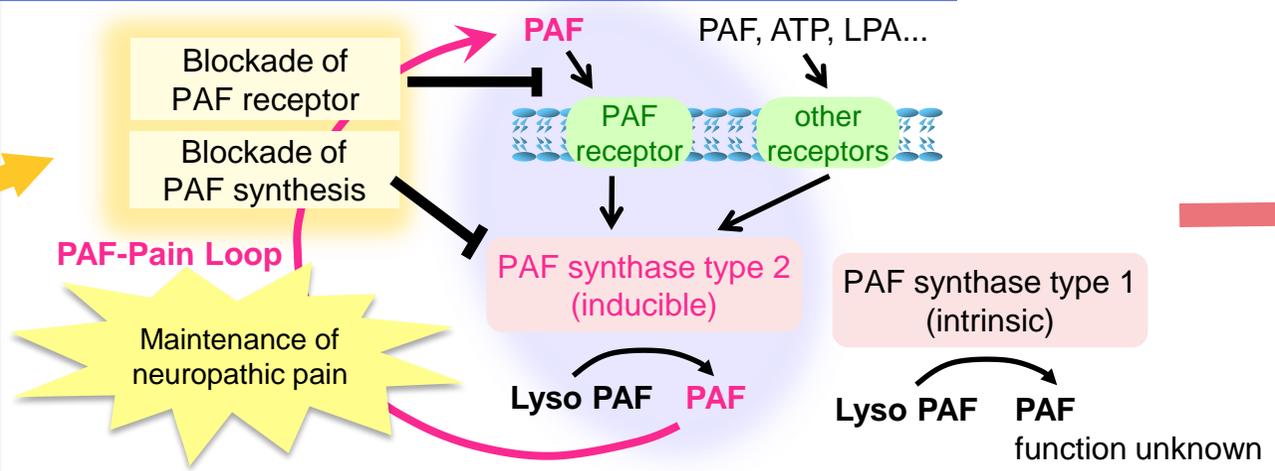

Lidocaine: blockade of channel A through penetrating of membranes
Compound X: enter only through a pain channel and block the channel A

License out
(2018.10)

J-SUPPORT
<http://www.j-support.org>

Seeds
↓
Collaboration with NCGM

Development of novel drugs for severe chronic pain

Phase I

Clinical studies for supportive care through Phase II, III studies